

March 12, 2015

KYAE Outstanding Lesson competition extended

The following was sent to the KYAE listserv.

Attention, all KYAE Instructors! The deadline for submitting lessons for the KYAE Outstanding Lesson of 2014-15 has been extended to May 1, 2015. Read on for details:

Cash prizes available for top KYAE Lesson Bank submissions!

The KYAE Lesson Bank is gaining momentum with the recent addition of new lessons. KYAE instructors are urged to share their standards-based lessons with their peers by submitting those lessons to the KYAE Lesson Bank, <http://kyaelessons.blogspot.com/>. To review the process, go here.

To kick off the initial year for the Lesson Bank and build a collection of high-quality lessons, KYAE is holding a competition for the best KYAE lesson of 2014-15. The individual who creates the KYAE Outstanding Lesson of 2014-15 will receive a prize of $500; a banner and bragging rights for a full year will go to the author's learning center. Top finalists for the outstanding lesson will receive $100 each.

Submissions for the competition will now be accepted until May 1, 2015. In May, the lesson reviewers/coaches will identify the top finalists. These finalists will review each other's lessons and select, from among themselves, KYAE's Outstanding Lesson for 2014-15.

The KYAE Lesson Bank is a private site available to all KYAE instructors; log-in credentials are in the November 3 announcement found on the Announcements/News and Professional Development pages of www.kyae.ky.gov.

If you have any questions, please contact Gayle box at 502-573-5114, ext. 353 or gayle.box@ky.gov.